The Circulation of other than National Bank Notes. WASHINGTON, November 11.-Treasurer Spinner in his annual report says that constant complaints have been made and are being made that the laws made to restrain the issuing and circulation of notes other than those authorized by act of Congress are evaded in large sections of the country, and in many localities they are utterly disregarded. He says: The latter is particularly true of the South, and particularly so in the States of Georgia and Alabama. Most of these violations of law are by municipalities and by importance. manufacturing companies. I can speak of this evil from personal experience and observation. In localities at the South almost the entire circulations consist of such local issues that are put upon everybody in change, and unless used in the place of issue are worthless to the holder. This is particularly true of the fractional currency. For this there was not currency enough, as the amount authorized by law has never been issued from the Treasury, being restricted and reduced by the issue and circulation, in violation of law, of this illegitimate and almost worthless currency. Now that banking under the national system is measurably free, that excuse will not hold as to the issue of notes of one dollar and upward. By an act of March 26, 1867, it is enacted that bank, or banker, or association, shall pay a tax of ten (10) per centum on the amount of notes of any town, city, or municipal corpo-

has never been the poor excuse that there ration, paid out by them. This enactment does not reach the root of the evil. The law should be so amended and changed as to compel the payment of the tax by municipalities, companies, or individuals, who make the original issue of such unauthorized circulating notes. Bankers and business-men at the South assured me that even such a tax would not prevent the issue of this kind of currency, and that the only effectual way to abolish the nuisance of obligation with a view to its circulation fine or imprisonment, or both, by any court having cognizance thereof."

Miners' Strike in Pennsylvania.

OPENING their PLACES OF BUSINESS on SUN-DAY, and I noticed a few dats since a party was fined for failing to comply with this law. The persons who violate this law are those who are engaged in selling ardent spirits, and surely demands attention. It is a law that should be strictly enforced and no partiality shown. In the ward in which I reside no notice is taken of the parties who, every Sunday, violate this law, and especially is it mere flagrant when one of these parties is a member of the City Council, and must be acquainted with the fact that there is such a law in existence. It is a matter that requires attention, and if the proper authorities will take steps to remove this evil they will receive the lasting gratitude of all law-abiding citizens of this city.
